WHAT ARE THOSE STRIPES?

The poise and carriage of Celebrity Officers is nothing short of impressive. Each Officer carries gold stripes either on the sleeve of their evening uniform or as epaulets on the shoulders of their day uniform. But what do those stripes mean? The Marine department contains an anchor and the gold stripes on black background. The Engineers' epaulets contain gold stripes with propeller on purple background. The purple background honors the memory of the maritime engineers of the Titanic. The Hotel Department's epaulets have gold stripes on a white background. The Environmental Officer's epaulet contains three gold stripes on a green background with the universal recycle emblem. The Medical team wears gold stripes on red background signifying its relation to the Red Cross and the Red Crescent of medical assistance. We are all proud to represent Celebrity Cruises.
